Food Bank Update

Melksham Foodbank has now been recognised as an incorporated charity - They had a celebration last week to say thanks to the countless volunteers and donors who have made it such a success and grown it from its humble roots out of a Lent Group at Queensway in 2008!

Please continue to support them with food donations at your local supermarket or financially as they do offer more than just food parcels.

And well done to the volunteers from Queensway who faithfully collect the food from the donor points each week.
